Foreword

Forsooth! Our spurs are won. We leave the mother castle. In our leaving we take with us a host of memories, which cannot ever be matched outside this world of youth. Thus, we have made this, the fifth edition of our yearbook, not as the DOOMSDAY BOOK, but as the golden song of a minstrel - to brighten the age of his master and stir him to tolerance of the youth of others, because he has never lost his own.

DEDICATION

We Seniors of '40 wish to dedicate this, the fifth edition of MEMOIR, to Miss Evelyn Cecile Thornton. We could write many words here, but only our feelings truly and sincerely express our love and our appreciation to her for making our class what it is today.

WHAT IS YOUR ATTITUDE TOWARD LIFE?

Looking back over a period of years during which I have been thrown in close contact with many high school boys and girls I am convinced that the attitude of the youth of today is quite different from that of some ten or fifteen years ago.

The young people of today have all too often lost their courage, their individual initiative. They face life defeated from the start because they have no initiative. This being true they sit back and wail hopelessly for somebody to come to their assistance. They want to be helped to secure a job. They say, "You must have pull to get a job today." Who is responsible for this unfortunate attitude on the part of our American youth? I would say that the fault lies not with the school, the home, nor with any particular organization or group. It seems to me that such is largely the result of economic and social conditions that have existed during these years.

That this is not true of all youths of today is to the credit of that small percentage who have kept up their courage until they have found employment. True perhaps, the job secured was not what they had hoped to make their life's vocation, but it was employment. They were neither ashamed nor afraid to start with what some might turn down as insignificant and unworthy of them in their own estimation.

To you whom graduation from high school will mean the end of your formal education, I earnestly beg that you realize few people have been successful because success was handed them on a silver platter, that you develop your courage and initiative. Do not be afraid to start with what might seem small. It is easier for a person who has been successful in small things to get a better position than it is for one who has never been employed at all.

To you who will continue your formal education either in high school or some institution of higher learning you will find that each year you will be expected to be more self-reliant. There is no better time than the present for you to realize that the habits of work and play which you form during your school career will influence your attitude toward work in life. If the problem assigned seems perplexing and difficult, do not give up too easily. Do not sit idly by and wait for solutions to all of these problems and questions to be handed to you. Develop your own initiative and do some thinking for yourselves.

Are you going to be a quitter before you start? Are you going to sit back and say, "It's no use because I have no pull"? Are you willing to give the best that is within you to whatever you undertake? WHAT IS YOUR ATTITUDE TOWARD LIFE?

The castle gate we're leaving;
The accolade is done;
Full-fledged knights, we're turning
Toward the rising sun.

Our spurs are new and shining;
Our standard, flashing white;
Our flag we've pledged to duty,
Protecting weak and right.

Our good sword, known as Knowledge,
Is trusty, tried, and true;
Our spurs are called Ambition
And still shine bright and new.

And so we leave the castle;
Hopeful knights are we;
We go to wage our war of right
Upon both land and sea.

CLASS HISTORY

Do you remember when you first entered school as a Freshman? Well, it seemed a little different to me; I don't know how it seemed to you. We entered four years ago as Freshmen and there were about sixty of us. That year was very strange to us, because we didn't realize how life would treat us. We never thought we should ever be called rats, but nevertheless we were kicked about as rats. Our faculty leaders were Miss Athena Blake and Mr. H. C. Proctor, who were loved by all of us. During this year we had some members representing us in the May Court and on the athletic teams. As June rolled around we sorrowfully bade our friends good-bye until the following September.

As September came around some did not return, but of course new ones joined our group. This year we were fifty-two proud Sophomores with Miss Ball and Mr. Williams as our beloved leaders. This year we thought we should be an organized group; so we elected Jacqueline Allen, President; John Stafford, Vice-President; and Mae Bruner, Secretary-Treasurer. Oh! yes, we loved our studies, but of course we loved to chat with one another and engage in mischief. We also had members to represent us in the May Court this year. Well, as June began to roll around another school year had passed and we were ready for another three months' vacation.

Now, that we were Juniors we had much to look forward to with Miss Thornton as our sponsor. We were a group of forty-seven, who elected as our officers President, John Stafford; Vice-President, Jacqueline Allen; Secretary, Virginia Rennie; and Treasurer, John Robins. This session we had class meetings in the Home Ec. Cottage, and they were very enjoyable meetings. Once during the year we had our parents as our guests at an informal reception at the Cottage. In May we entertained the Seniors at a banquet at the Chesterfield Golf Club. This was one of the most gala events of the year. May Day was a lovely affair and we were proud to have Virginia Rennie as Maid of Honor, John Stafford as Lord of May, Katheryne Maxey and Margaret Collier as Ladies, and Bob Hutchison and Richard Downs as Lords. During this year the class through its English classes originated the JUNIOR JITTERBUG, the so-called school newspaper; and the Les Savantes Club, a book club. When the school year of 1939 ended, we felt as if we as a class had learned and accomplished much.

Well, I guess we worked hard for three years in order to become Seniors and to start out our fourth year with those long awaited class rings. Guess what? There were forty-five of us, too, the largest Senior class in the history of Manchester High School. Proud were we! Since we have accomplished much this year I suppose I should begin telling about it. We still have our organized class with John Stafford, President; John Robins, Vice-President; Woodliff Jolly, Secretary; and Nettie Mooring, Treasurer. We still have our meetings in the Home Ec. Cottage as we did last year. A frequent visitor is our mascot, Nettie Mooring's cat "Buzzy." We entertained the Juniors at a Hobo Supper given at Dr. Beltcher's Cabin. This was a night of enjoyment, I'll say, with prizes given to the best dressed hoboes. At one of our meetings we chose Nettie Mooring as Class Poet; Martha Flippo, Historian; Woodliff Jolly, Testatrix; and Virginia Rennie, Prophetess. A Beauty Contest in which a number of Seniors participated was held at school in January. It happened that the winner of this contest was the contestant sponsored by the Senior Class, Nancy Hagood. Then, there was the Senior Play, SPRING FEVER, which was given on March 15. Now the representatives have been chosen for a May Day: Margaret Collier as Queen; Virginia Rennie, Maid of Honor John Stafford, King; Anne Moore, Nancy Hagood, Clarence Nelson, and Bob Hutchison, members of the May Court. Out of this class there are many boys and girls who are interested in basketball and baseball. They have helped Manchester win many games during their years in high school. Then, we must not forget our S. C. A. President, Garland Stafford, one of the faithful members of the dear old Senior Class.

Now that Commencement is rolling around again, we shall be leaving the dear old school to go out into the world, taking with us many more responsibilities than we have had in the past. May we find our place in the world and may we find happiness!

Martha Flippo

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the members of the Senior Class of 1940 of Manchester High School, in the County of Chesterfield, in the Commonwealth of Virginia, realizing that our parting is near at hand, and being still under the influence of eleven years of study, do hereby make and ordain our last will and testament with the following requests:

I, Mae Bruner, will my nothing to some one needing it less.
I, Richard Gregory, will my dual personality to Henry Smith.
I, Evelyn Williams, will my size seven shoes to Joyce Harris.
I, Elizabeth Sims, will my red hair to Elizabeth Cunningham.
I, Lois Apperson, will my shortness to Jeanne Patterson.
I, Margaret Collier, will my extreme slimness to Thelma Williams.
I, Mildred Pemberton, will my fondness for basketball to Virginia Fuqua.
I, Kitty Chaffin, will my voice to Josephine West.
I, Dorothy Coover, will my ability to gain weight and stay fat to Gwendolyn Morrissette.
I, Muriel Butler, will my whatever you can find to whoever can find it.
I, Nancy Hagood, will my fondness for Minor Boos to Ellen Taylor.
I, Anne Moore, will my love for school to Granville Wills.
I, Virginia Snellings, will my shortness to any one who needs it, especially Warren Pannell.
I, Arline Barnes, will my temper to Mary Jane Bruner.
I, Ruth Mittelstadter, will my shorthand ability to Frank Glidewell.
I, "Jawn" Stafford, will my signature to "Jawn" Swann.
I, Katheryne Maxey, will my intellectual ability to Billy Dunn.
We, Edna King and Nettie Mooring, will our fondness for the office and the first aid room to Kenneth Campbell and Jack Hutchison.
I, Raymond Powell, will my pitching ability to a guy by the name of SI.
I, Sue Flippo, will my ability to primp to Thelma Donner.
I, Jacqueline Allen, will my artistic ability to Andrew Tolker so that he may improve his hidden talents.
I, Robert Beasley, will my French interest to Minor Boos.
I, Gordon Martin, will my hastily growing beard to little Lawrence Cheatham.
I, Virginia Rennie, will my bashfulness to Mr. Eason, hoping that he will use it to woo the opposite sex to a better advantage than I have.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

I, Roy Boos, will two feet of my height to Mr. Reid.
I, John Robins, will my bookkeeping credit to an unlucky Junior.
I, Clarence Nelson, will my female admirers to Layton Johnson.
I, Freida Wiegand, will my boy-loving personality to Elsie Melius.
I, Myrtle Woodfin, will my dimples to Frances Weisiger.
I, Garland Stafford, will my "manly build" to William Ferguson.
I, Joe Schmitt, will my unusual trade mark to Jack Hutchison.
I, George Johns, will my French abilities to Billy Cockes.
I, Raymond Overbey, will my bashfulness to Wilber Welton.
I, Reginald Dyer, leave Stanley's welfare in the hands of Virginia Bockman.
I, Arlean Taylor, will my appealing gaze to Carroll Bruner.
I, Martha Flippo, will my ability to "go gettem" to Anne Hatcher.
I, Bob Hutchison, will my ability for getting into mischief to Kenneth Campbell (if he needs it).
I, Richard Downs, leave to my brother Bobby the responsibility of seeing that S. C. A. business is discussed.
I, Evelyn Hiles, will my quiet disposition to Margaret Farnsworth.
I, William Perkins, will my fondness for baseball to Ralph Reams and Billy Stewart.
I, Edna Beasley, will my notebooks to the Freshman girls.
I, Melvin LaPrade, will my acting ability to Stuart Baltz.
To the Juniors we will our dignity, our dear teachers, and the privilege of undoing all that we have done.
To the Sophomores we will our improved methods of learning and hope that they will never follow in our footsteps.
To the Freshmen we will our standards of good behavior that we have worked for four years to gain.
To Miss Thornton we will our very best wishes.
To the Faculty we will our thanks and highest appreciation for our scant but important intellectual abilities.
We do hereby constitute Mr. G. H. Reid sole executor of this our last will and testament. In witness thereof we do hereby set our hands on this, the twenty-third day of March, in the year of our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred, forty.
Signed, sealed, and published by the Senior Class of 1940, as our last will and testament in my presence, who, by the request of the class and in their presence, do hereunto sign my name.

CLASS PROPHECY

By now every available attic must have been saked for costume "jools," hoops, and bustles to garnish those BACK WITH THE BREEZE strapless gowns. Yes, LOIS APPERSON has certainly become egotistical on us after completing such an outlandish piece of plunder!! They say she had been working on that novel ever since her high school days.

Indeed they did wear bustles and hoops back in 1940! I very distinctly remember NETTIE MOORING and a very amusing incident. She was attending a dance and was wearing a red satin bustle dress and she hadn't practiced sitting down. Dear me! You remember that dear girl, don't you? I hear that she is now instructing one of the most outlandish Ju-Jitsu classes and her star pupil, DOTT COOVER, is to be exhibited at the Chinatown World's Fair in 1955. I hope she doesn't get tangled up with a Chinaman.

I hear that famous designer, GEORGE JOHNS, has devised a means of firmly securing a bustle to withstand the ravishes of that inexpedient step of the day, HONKY-TONK JIVE. A charmer, eh?

Did you notice the Society Page today? Snodsville's debutantes, EVELYN WILLIAMS and ARLINE BARNES, escorted by those two glamour boys, WILLIAM PERKINS and JOHN ROBINS, are going to cruise to Bermuda as the guests of MR. and MRS. GORDON MARTIN. She is the former MARTHA FLIPPO, you know. Well, I thought it would happen all along. They are going to attend VIRGINIA SMELLINGS' first german. She is rushing the Go Get 'Ems Society's newest find, that Dixieland playboy, ROY BOOS. A rather queer couple!

Speaking of couples, I guess you knew that our new neighbors, the NELSONS, are throwing another of those intolerable cocktail parties Thursday night? Such carrying-on, especially with six such dear children in the house! Well, CLARENCE and KATHERYNE have been kicking the society gong around since CLARENCE was made president of the Delo Distillery.

Feature this. SUE FLIPPO is in Hawaii disguised as a native and is taking up Hulu-ing as her profession. This kills you, though. She is engaged to a native who is a bar-tender. She says he has quite an ancestral background and he runs a swanky saloon. But do you know, Mort says he saw them when he went down there to sell monkey fur and that man isn't a native at all. It is none other than REGINALD DYER with some grease paint on to hide those freckles and rags stuffed in his shirt to build up those muscles. For attraction, he has ELIZABETH SIMS, ANNE MOORE, and NANCY HAGOOD as waitresses in that dive. My!

You are just dying for that Thrill a Minute Revue to get to town, isn't you? I heard that JOE SCHMITT and GARLAND STAFFORD - they are co-partners - got in a fight over one of the chorus girls they have. JOE wanted her to wear a colonial dress and GARLAND wanted her to wear a sarong. Doesn't that sound like GARLAND? Incidently, that girl was EVELYN HILES. They have a new band each time they go on the road and DICK GREGORY and his Gregonians will torture us this time. He is going to feature JAC ALLEN. They are going to introduce that sensational song hit by RUTH MITTELSTADTER and FREIDA WIEGAND. MARGARET COLLIER is going to perform on the tight ropes. Have you ever heard of such impudent advertising? The day before they arrive in town, their two acrobats, RAYMOND POWELL and EDNA BEASLEY, are going to jump from a plane with only the aid of an umbrella as a parachute.

WOODLIFF JOLLY married to MELVIN LAPRADE? You say they are very happy? I hear MELVIN's a preacher. He has a small church, but it will certainly grow with JOLLY's dazzling beauty. This is her third, isn't it? And look at the time I had landing one! I have to anchor him now sometimes. Well, I just bet you she'll be meandering down to see DR. JOHN STAFFORD soon. He's down there in the Thornton Hospital for Smashed Hearts. Miss Thornton is still looking out for the welfare of others. ARLEAN TAYLOR and MILDRED PEMBERTON are her soul assistants. BOB HUTCHISON, Croaxville's most popular chemist, has sold his invention that is guaranteed to cure loveritis in everyone, that is, everyone except himself. Of course, he just couldn't break off that eight year engagement with EDNA KING. Did you know that he uses her for his experiments?

Next door to the doctor's is the orphanage of MISS MURIEL BUTLER. Twelve of her orphans are fed weekly in the stately mansion of MISS MYRTLE WOODFIN, who married a banker last year.

Wait! That was the doorbell. Guess what? There was a man at the door in old clothes, whiskers, and a shovel over his right shoulder. He wanted to shovel some snow away. He has a sweet little wife and baby and they have not had much to eat lately. It was DICK DOWNS! His wife is KITTY CHAFFIN. I gave him a dollar and told him to go down to get some of ROBERT's BEASLEY-burgers. The last thing he asked was: "Can you lend me a sheet of paper? My shoe soles are a bit thin." Still up to his old tricks!

Can you imagine MASIE BRUNER getting the lead in that picture as the vivacious creature, Anne Teek, and playing opposite that handsome star, RAYMOND OVERBEY? Dear me!

Oh! There is Commencement crying. I had better run in and see about him. 'Bye, now!

JUNIOR CLASS POEM

With Hope and Faith and Love and Pluck,
We entered our Freshman year.
With an aim to gain and a goal to win,
We worked and studied with vigor and vim.

With courage we entered our Sophomore term,
More determined to live and learn.
Driving back all our fears of old,
Ready to pave our pathway with gold.

Our lives as Juniors should remind us,
That we must strive to do our best.
And on departing leave behind us,
Memories that may help the rest.

Soon we'll enter our Senior class,
And it will mark our journey's end.
May it be the dawn of a glorious day,
And the joys that bring neither end nor decay.

-Jack Hutchison

SOPHOMORE CLASS POEM

With two years gone, the third in sight,
We'll fight our way right to the top;
We've failed; we've won; been wrong and right,
But that won't cause us to stop.

We're far yet from the promised goal
E'en though one year has passed,
But we'll fight on with heart and soul
Until we reach that goal at last.

So if we fail or if we win,
We'll remember it has to be,
For all happiness doesn't blend,
But a little of everything does, you see.

So when the Sophomore Class of '39
Reaches its destination,
You'll know we've had to fight and climb
With strong determination.

MEMOIR

FRESHMAN CLASS POEM

We have reached the hilltop;
The mountains are in view.
The higher way, the steeper paths,
Are calling us upward anew.

Gold and jeweled castles
Lie yonder in the sun,
Calling us onward and upward
Until our work is done.

We know not what the future holds
Nor what to us is sent,
But take the talents that we have,
And do what God has meant.

Opportunity knocks for us but once,
But then we'll make our start,
And fight to reach our heart's desire,
Ne'er shrinking from our part.

"Truth is the basis of all argument."
Honor is her right hand man;
Fame and achievement mean nothing to us
Unless they walk hand in hand.

We shall climb for happiness,
And climb and climb for fame;
The Freshman class of 1940
Climbs upward for its name.

-Bobby Williams

TOURNAMENTS

The school today is concerned not only in our preparing ourselves to make a living, but also in our learning to live with others. Everyone realizes this and that the basic element of success in any field - no matter what type of work is to be accomplished - is cooperation. Cooperation, learning to live with others, cannot be acquired chiefly in English, in history, in mathematics, or in any other class. Since the school is an institution, the purpose of which is to prepare the boys and the girls of today for the men and women of tomorrow, extra-curricular activities are included in the school's program. These activities include clubs, athletics, publications, and other organizations of the school. Through all of these organizations the youth learns the fundamental rules of cooperation - how to work with his fellow man to the best advantage and how to fulfil his duty in any activity. These extra-curricular activities make school life the happy situation that it is today.
